

Further concentration of media ownership threatens democracy. We already have too much concentration of ownership; don't go further down that road.